

The Victory Loan.

"The objective for the province of Alberta for the Seventh Victory Loan, the campaign for which opens on October 23rd, has been set at $13,300,000.00", said Fred E. Osborne, Chairman of the National War Finance Committee for the Province of Alberta, in an interview recently. The objective in the Fifth and Sixth Loans was $37,000,000.00 in each case, the more objective representing an increase approximately twenty-five percent in the General Sales and Payroll Sections, and making the Seventh Victory Loan the largest financial undertaking ever accepted in this province.

Asked to outline the reasons for this heavy increase, Mr. Osborne said that in previous loans the major requirements were for the training of personnel and providing a backlog of ammunition and supplies. Since "D" Day, however, the Armies of Canada have been engaged in actual combat, a much more costly phase of war than the preparation period. The demobilization of supplies under such conditions is terrific and demands a continuous flow from factory to boat, from boat to beachhead, from beachhead to the front line. Only by having too much can there be enough, to guard against exceptional pressure at unexpected points.

Mr. Osborne did not believe that the expected collapse of Germany would at all lessen the need for the greatest financial effort of which Canadians are capable. Should chaos break out in Germany, an immense army of occupation would be required and former enemy countries would have to be similarly patrolled. But the main reason was that the end of the European phase of the war would immediately see intensification of the war in the Pacific, beginning with the transportation of millions of men, and likewise millions of tons of equipment and supplies half way around the world. Any feeling of complacency at this time due to the European situation would be most detrimental to our war effort, and, if given effect, it would undoubtedly unnecessarily prolong the war.

P.O. Advises Mail Early For Overseas

The time to mail parcels for members of the Armed Forces overseas is drawing near. Postmaster-General P. Mulock advises that it is time to start planning now. Parcels for those serving in the more remote theatres of war should be sent earliest. Here is the Department's suggested "deadline" dates: October 5th—The Middle East area, Egypt, Iran, Iraq, Syria, etc.

October 10—Central Mediterranean Forces

October 25—The United Kingdom and France.

The abolition of compulsory savings, the savings bank credits at an all-time high, full employment, farm income at peaks never before reached in this Province and the way in which Albertans of all classes had measured up to their responsibilities in previous loans made Mr. Osborne optimistic that the higher objective would not only be reached but greatly exceeded. "In addition, our people are becoming more 'bond conscious' as the financial pages show previous loans held at par or better", he said. Double bank interest, which the bonds carry, makes participation in each campaign not only an act of patriotism but worthwhile from the standpoint of good business.

The Management Committee of the Alberta National War Finance organization has already held many meetings with those responsible in the various sections for the success of the loan. Others are to be held during the weeks before the campaign opens. It is hoped that individuals from all walks of life, from whom the bulk of the subscriptions must come, will early review their financial position and be prepared to subscribe early—either through the canvasser who will call upon them, through their banks, or through the Payroll Section of their firm. "The accepted slogan for the campaign, 'Invest in Victory', puts it all in a nutshell", concluded Mr. Osborne.

Didsbury Jottings By A.C.H.

Did you hear about the soldier overseas who suffered from insomnia? It was 3 a.m.

He nudged his sleepy companion. "What time is it?" he asked. "Look at your watch and see".

"It's seven in the evening", was the reply.

"You're crazy", said the wide awake one.

"Oh no I'm not", was the answer. "Mother is serving up supper to a kitchen full of harvesters and father is busy round the threshing machine".

"You see, he went on, 'I now what time it is here'. 'What I want to know when I look at my watch, is, what time is it in Didsbury'".

Down at Mrs. Fred Reiffenstein's are two large books. One contains snapshots of about 250 Didsbury service men and women. The other has their addresses. Each of the 250 are away from home; each is lonely; each needs letters. Won't you become a member of that K.T. club (Keep In Touch)? Doesn't cost a cent. Just go along next Tuesday evening and write a letter to one of the fellows or girls. Don't say you can't manage it, that might imply that you are in a rut. And the only difference between a rut and a grave is that one of them is wider.

The superfluous shop opens up again on Saturday. Some fine fall bargains, they tell me. The new premises are upstairs over Mr. Fred Reiffenstein's garage.

The regular monthly meeting of the Town Council will be held on Monday, October 2nd, at 8:00 p.m., in the Legion Hall.

At this meeting representatives of the Calgary Power Company will be present to explain and discuss with the Council a proposed new schedule of light rates. The proposed schedule will no doubt benefit many of the consumers, but before it can be put into force, it will be necessary to circulate in the town a petition to the Prices Board.

The council feels that this is a matter of vital importance to consumers, and hopes that as many as possible will attend the meeting and hear all about the proposed schedule, which may prove of great assistance if and when the petition is circulated.

The Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic

At a meeting of the Executive Committee held last week, it was decided to zone the town and district and to have a person in each zone contact the various people, and endeavour to obtain a large number of blood donors.

It is a busy time, but it should be remembered that the reserve of blood plasma was much depleted owing to the many casualties caused by the many Robert bomb raids in Britain. No one wants wounded men and women prior to their coming to Didsbury.

Mrs. Florence Finlay, who recently returned from Africa, spoke briefly of missionary work and the great need of workers in the foreign fields.

Other musical numbers were given, and by request, Dr. Seaman sang "I Won't Have to Cross Jordan Alone".

After lunch, a lovely chenille spread was presented to Mrs. Seaman as a parting gift from the Bible Class, of which she was a member. A purse of money was given to Dr. and Mrs. Seaman as a love offering from their friends.

Both Dr. and Mrs. Seaman expressed their thanks and voiced their sincere appreciation to their many friends at Didsbury.

To close the evening program, "God Will Take Care of You" was sung, and benediction pronounced.

Photographs On Display Next Week

The collection of photographs of men and women in the navy, army and airforce, sponsored by the 14th (R) Army Tanks, will be placed on display at Johnson & McCloy's Barber Shop next week.

There are still a number who have not yet brought in photographs, and it is felt that the more complete the display is, the more interesting it will be. So, relatives are asked, if they have not already done so, to bring in photos of men and women who are in the armed services.

Tenders Accepted for Hospital Building

After a recent meeting, the Municipal Hospital Board announced that the following tenders for construction of the 25-bed hospital building were accepted: Bennett & White, of Calgary, for the building; Lockyer & Hole, of Edmonton, for the plumbing and heating; and the Electrical Contracting and Machinery Company of Calgary, for the electrical work. The contract calls for the building to be completed not later than May 1st, 1945, and the Board expects that construction will commence in the near future. The site chosen by the Board is just east of Walder's house on the north side of the centre road to the highway.

The Board expects to be in a position to issue the debentures after the first of October.

"Northern Lights" Together Again

A group of young people, formerly called the "Northern Lights", met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bradford on September 24, to renew acquaintances. This is the first time the group has been together since high school days.

A buffet luncheon was served by the ladies.

Greetings were sent to members overseas, who are Howard and Gordon Dedels, Bob Madoche, also Gordon Boettger of High River.

Those present included Mr. and Mrs. John Snyder and son, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dedels and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Schalenberg and son, Miss Celina Dedels, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Falk and family, of Sunnyslope; and Mr. Jerry Boettger, of Drumheller.

A very pleasant time was enjoyed by all, and it is hoped that this will become an annual event for the group.

We are pleased with the response of so many of our subscribers to our request that subscriptions be brought up to date.

To those who have not done so, we would ask that they do so before the end of September.

Blended for Quality "SALOON" TEA Empire Forces in The Pacific

SENSATIONAL AND SWIFTLY moving events in Europe have tended to monopolize the public interest, and the war in the Pacific has, in the opinion of many, had less than the share of interest it has deserved. American forces have fought in great numbers in this theatre of war, and it is possible that many in this country have not realized the extent to which the British Empire has taken part in the struggle against Japan, while carrying on the war in Europe. The British Ministry of Information has, however, recently published some interesting facts concerning the part played by Empire forces on the various fronts in the Pacific war, stretching from the Aleutian Islands to the boundaries of Burma, and we are reminded that Canadian, Australian, New Zealand, Indian and West African troops have all fought at the side of British and American forces on the many sectors of this great war front.

Many Troops In Far East

Few Canadians need to be reminded of the part played by troops from this Dominion in the gallant defence of Hong Kong. Canadian soldiers likewise formed the greater part of the forces which drove the Japanese from the Aleutian Islands. The Royal Canadian Air Force also took part in this action. Australia, whose interest in the war in the Pacific is a vital one, has made contributions "out of all proportion to their resources." Mr. Herbert Morrison, British Minister of Home Security, reported that during the campaign in New Guinea, Australia supplied the greater part of the manpower and most of the equipment for her own soldiers. He further stated that in the whole Far Eastern theatre, taking British, Australian and Indian troops, the British contribution in manpower is comparable to that of the United States. At the beginning of this year, five-sixths of the land forces in the Southwestern Pacific were Australian, and they were responsible for many important successes, among them the capture of Buna, Milne Bay and Sonananda.

Solid Basis For Victory

The Royal Australian Navy has also contributed much towards the Allied success in the Pacific. In addition to its work in transporting Australian troops and equipment to the battle areas, it has taken part in many assault actions, including the attacks on the Solomons and on Guadalcanal. The New Zealand Navy has likewise taken part in many actions in this area, and New Zealand ships have been responsible for the sinking of a number of Japanese submarines. The air forces of both Australia and New Zealand have won many brilliant victories over the enemy, and have also done extensive reconnaissance. In the campaign in Burma, crack Indian troops fought beside British Divisions and in this campaign there were also troops from West Africa who are known as the best jungle fighters in the world. It has been predicted that Empire forces in great strength will be sent to the Pacific when they are no longer required in Europe, and they will find there many of their comrades who have laid solid foundations for victory.

A New Helicopter

Different Type Invented And Demonstrated By California Youth

A new type of helicopter which eliminates the customary tail propeller and overcomes torque by using super-impinged, contra-rotating two-blade rotors, was demonstrated at San Francisco to the navy, army and national advisory committee for aeronautics by its inventor, 19-year-old Stanley Hiller of Berkeley.

The ship rose vertically, hovered, swung in a circle, inclined forward, slid backward and landed within a foot of the take-off spot.

Young Hiller, son of a pioneer Pacific flier and steamship company president, said the experimental ship had a speed of about 100 miles an hour and cruises at from 1 1/2 to 30 miles an hour. Its longest flight so far has been about 50 miles.

Show Of Rudeness

Action Of A Crowd At The Bus Stops

Rudeness of a shocking nature has become an accepted form of deportment at the more crowded bus stops during peak hours. Offenders are found among no special age group or class; they all appear to be actuated by the same spirit of selfishness, and their behavior does them no credit.

Some strong-arm individuals think nothing of "rushing for the bus" ahead of women and children and gloowering defiance at anyone who feels tempted to give them a merited rebuke.

There is one way to control this situation, and that is by compelling those persons waiting for buses to form in line, as is done in England.—Hamilton Spectator.

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q.—I have one room and the use of a kitchen to sublet in my house. What may I charge weekly? How much notice must I give the tenant?

A.—You must apply to the rentals administration for a fixation of rent. An appraiser will call and inspect your accommodation and advise you the maximum rental which may be charged. You must give your tenant six months' notice to vacate, and this notice must not terminate between September 30 and the following April 30.

Q.—I wish to sell my car. May I sell it privately or must I give it to a dealer to sell for me?

A.—You may sell it privately. A signed statement of sale with all details including the name and address of the owner and purchaser, etc., must be filed within four days of the date of sale with your nearest Board office. The forms are available at all Board offices. The car must be sold at a price not higher than the ceiling set by the Motor Vehicle Controller. No person, other than a dealer, shall purchase more than one used passenger motor vehicle in a calendar year, which means that if a person has acquired a used passenger motor vehicle in the present calendar year he can sell this automobile but cannot accept another passenger motor vehicle as part payment in the same year.

Q.—May one person buy ammunition on his gun registration card on behalf of another person who wishes to use it?

A.—No. Hunters' ammunition purchase permits are only issued to owners of guns against their gun registration certificate. Permits are not transferable.

Q.—Is there any way in which we could have a remake centre started in our community?

A.—If you would write to the Secretary of the Consumer Branch, Wartime Prices and Trade Board, care of the head office of the Board in your province, you will receive information about the remake centres.

Please send your questions or your request for the pamphlet "Consumers' News" or the Blue Book (the book in which you keep track of your costing prices) mentioning the name of the paper to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office in your province.

The Maquis

Took To The Bush And Carried On Their Resistance

We are calling them "The Maquis," though, if we wanted to be fussy, we would have to call them Maquisards: men of the Maquis. Maquis means, roughly, "bush" or "wilderness." In Corsica, French patriots "took to the bush" and carried on their resistance from inaccessible strongholds. In many parts of France there is rough country tangled with gorse and briar, local variations of the Corsican maquis. The name Maquisard caught on all over France. Bushmen became the symbol of patriotism. Today, with the freeing of Paris and the rapid liberation of half France, the men of the Maquis have come into their own. Winnipeg Tribune.

Aims Of Egypt

After The War, Will Ask For Complete Freedom

Premier Mustafa Nahas Pasha indicated that after the war Egypt would seek amendment of the 1936 treaty with Britain so as to give Egypt what he termed "complete freedom."

In an address broadcast on the treaty's anniversary the premier stated "three aspirations" as Egypt's post war aims.

"First is to complete the country's independence," he said.

The second aim is "consolidation of democratic principles," and the third is "to help all Arab countries achieve co-operation in order to stand as one unified bloc among free nations of the world."

A treaty of alliance was signed by Britain and Egypt, Aug. 26, 1936, recognizing the sovereignty of Egypt while safeguarding British interests and communications in the former protectorate. One of the terms authorized Britain to station troops in Egypt and assist Egyptians in defence of the Suez canal.

Production Of Supplies In Canada Gives Men At The Front A Sense Of Security

(By Edna Jacques)

"ONE of the main things we fellows keep in mind here in France is the knowledge that the folks at home are backing us to the limit. It's a great comfort to us." This is what one boy wrote home to his mother, in one of the first letters to come back to Canada from France.

He went on: "The great mass of equipment being brought in, would stagger your imagination. Guns, tanks, artillery, jeeps, hand grenades, supplies for total war, food for thousands of men. The trucks move up the roads by the hundred, it's gigantic!"

"If we hadn't faith in the ability of the Allies to keep this rolling along, we'd be in bad shape. We know that the home fronts of all our Allies are steady and secure and they will see to it that we get our supplies, pronto. We also know that there is a lot more where these are coming from."

"That is a priceless thing for fighting men to have—faith in the people at home. It gives them confidence and a sense of security that nothing else could."

They have faith in their allies, and they have faith in each other. Without this they couldn't have faced the blazing guns of the beachhead, the booby traps and machine guns. They know that they are fighting together for a great common cause.

And behind the leaders, the commanders and generals, behind the fighting soldiers of earth, air and sea, there is faith in us—the folks at home, the wives and mothers, the munition workers, the welders, the riveters, the men and women who work on planes.

A paratrooper, standing before the yawning darkness of the "jump" doors knows that his parachute has been packed right. He has faith in the person who packed it for him.

They have faith that we, the Home Front, are standing behind them, solidly. With tools of war, munitions, supplies. They see—in their mind's eye—long rows of armaments coming off the assembly lines. They know that bullets and shells are being turned out in a never-ending supply, that food is being grown and shipped, and that more is ever on the way.

It may seem a far cry from war, that the price of sugar or bread is not allowed to move upward. But how about the price of steel, nickel, gunpowder, rubber, lard, a plane's compass... camouflage paint for an invasion barge.

Keeping the home front prices on an even keel will keep all prices at a steady level. It's up to us every citizen of Canada to do his part.

Where Premiers Lived

Canada's Prime Ministers Have All Owned Homes In Ottawa

Sir John A. Macdonald when he was prime minister bought the stately residence called Earncliffe overlooking the Ottawa river, with a vista of Parliament Hill. It is now the home of the British high commissioner. Sir Wilfrid Laurier lived in an old fashioned brick residence on Sandy Hill. It was generally believed that it was left by Sir Wilfrid on the death of Lady Laurier as the home of the head of the Liberal party. This is not correct. It was left by Lady Laurier to Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King and is his personal property. He has lived in it ever since. Sir Robert Borden purchased a fine old stone residence when he was opposition leader, also on Sandy Hill overlooking the Rideau river. The high banks leading down to the river were conserved for wild flowers by Sir Robert, who was an amateur botanist. It is today the residence of the Chinese minister to Canada. Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, during his term of premiership and party leadership, lived in a very humble home in downtown Ottawa. Lord Bennett had a suite of rooms in the Chateau Laurier. —London Free Press.

Look To The North

The Necessity For Development Is One Of Urgency

It is not news that this war has revolutionized geographical thinking. Mercator's Projection has become somewhat outmoded in studying the map of the world, and in its place alert-minded people are using charts that offer a more accurate view of this globe.

From east-west thinking, Canadians must turn more to north-south thinking. A broad hint to this effect was given by President Roosevelt in his Breckerton speech. He spoke of Alaska and the Aleutians as "automatic stepping stones" to the Far East, and of the necessity of developing the northwest as an administrative and defence area.

According to The Evening Citizen's Washington correspondent, R. T. Bowman, the president "feels very strongly, but is too polite to say so" that Canada has not kept up-to-date in its development of her northern areas, especially in an administrative way. He implies that Canada should take parallel steps with the United States in this problem of the new northern routes and defensive frontier.

The subject broached by President Roosevelt is vital to Canada. The Citizen has time and again pointed to the lack of imagination towards the north in Ottawa departments. But it is not altogether the departments' fault that administration up there is extremely inadequate and, alongside the Russian example, obsolete. The matter should receive attention from parliament. That it has not done as yet—except in the form of solitary voices from isolated members—is a reflection upon all parties, and particularly the party in power. —Ottawa Citizen.

It is practically impossible for human life to exist more than 60 hours without water, although it can continue for weeks without food.

Vast Natural Resources Of India Help To Supply Allied Nations With Quantities Of War Material

MORE than half of all the tents used by the Allied armies in all theatres of war are made in India, according to Indian Information Services. Every year 5,600,000,000 yards of cloth come off Indian looms. Jute mills have produced thousands of millions of sand bags for protection against air raids.

Indian Officers

Since Last War Number Increased From Twelve To 307

When the last war ended there were only twelve commissioned Indian officers in the Indian Army. The process of Indianization had progressed so rapidly in the years before the war, that when it broke out the number had grown to 307.

The Indian Army itself has grown enormously from some 200,000 in 1918 to the present strength of 2,250,000 Indians, of which over 10,000 are Indian officers—that is, 35 per cent. of the officers in the Indian Army. The policy is to increase the percentage as rapidly as is practical until it reaches 100 per cent. Indian divisions are formed of Indian Army and British Army units brigaded together. Originally the Indian Army followed a policy of placing Indian officers in command only of Indian troops. This policy has now been abandoned and Indian and British officers may both have European and Indian troops under their command.

HAD NO SUCCESS

Total failure on the part of enemy agents to sabotage any Canadian industry since the start of the war was reported by Inspector G. B. McClellan of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police at a Rotary Club meeting in Toronto.

Girls To Rescue In C.P. Hotels

Girls replacing men who have joined the armed services or found their way into war industry, together with men beyond military age and some former male employees who have returned from overseas service, are carrying much of the load in maintaining standards of service and cleanliness in Canadian Pacific Railway hotels throughout western Canada. Seven

Canadian-born Chinese girls act as parlourmaids at the Empress Hotel in Victoria. They are shown at top, above, left to right: Nellie Chung; May Eng, Helen Lowe, Violet Chung, head parlourmaid; Rose Fong, Lily Lowe, and Rose John. Their job is to keep the lobby and other big public rooms in spotless condition, and they do it well. Even in heavier jobs around busy wartime hotels, however, the so-called gentler sex acquires itself well. Mary Morrison and Catherine Myanko (lower left), work as painter's helpers at the Royal Alexandra hotel in Winnipeg, and wield a tidy brush too. The Hotel Saskatoon, in Regina, which boasts a capable female valet in the comely person of Inga Knutson, here presents Betty Bishop (lower right) as a part and efficient "pageboy".

In fact so many have been produced that a spokesman for India claims that "if they were piled one over the other they would reach twice the distance of the earth to the moon."

Indians are the largest army clothiers in the British Empire, and the largest manufacturers of army boots in the Empire, one factory alone producing 10,000,000 pairs of shoes every year. India has the largest steel producing unit in the British Empire.

More than 1,500 war shops and 40 munitions factories, spread all over the country and directly employing 6,000,000 workers, are today supplying war materials to the United Nations. Guns, shells, bombs, rifles, grenades, bayonets, explosives, armoured vehicles, mine-sweepers, and countless items of equipment ranging from batteries to parachutes are produced in these plants.

On the military side of the picture, India has been able to raise her peacetime army of 180,000 to a mighty force of 2,000,000 trained men. Vast numbers of the army have gone overseas and their renown as fighters is world wide. Their bravery has been recognized by the award of at least seven Victoria Crosses in this war.

In an address given in New York earlier this year, a spokesman for India remarked that India's achievement in both industrial war production and manpower mobilization during the past five years have been on a scale which could not have been imagined a few years ago.

Make your Fall wardrobe distinctive. The popcorn stitch cord bag is crocheted in two pieces; the other is made of 3-inch squares. Crochet your own purses and be in style. Pattern 7213 contains directions for two bags, illustrations, stitches; list of materials.

To obtain this pattern send twenty cents (one stamp) cannot be accepted) to Household Arts Department, Winnipeg, Newswaper Union, 175 McArthur Avenue E., Winnipeg, Man. Be sure to write plainly your Name, Address and Pattern Number. Receipt of the sketches of the main delivery of our patterns may take a few days longer than usual.

REQUIRED TWO

Enterprise was displayed by the editor of the local paper in a small town in the American West when a service wire fell across the main street, holding up all traffic. No one dared to touch the wire in case it should be "live". The editor of the paper acted promptly.

"Send down two reporters," he ordered, "one to touch the wire and the other to write up the story."

GRANTS & ALLOWANCES—CAN WE AFFORD THEM?

Proposals are being made to spend hundreds of millions of dollars in the form of grants, allowances and gifts to certain groups of Canadian people, mainly to those who live in urban areas. If these grants are made, the percentage of the income from each person to be collected in taxes will be almost as high in peacetime as it is now during this war. This would impose extreme hardships upon most of the people, including farmers, for farmers, either directly in the form of income taxes or indirectly in the increased cost of the things they buy, always pay their full share of all taxes.

These gifts, grants and allowances, will not help to produce new wealth. They merely divert the wealth from some and give it to others. Worse than this, however, they take the savings of the people and put them to non-productive uses, for these savings, collected as taxes, will not be available to make improvements and to create new industries, hence will not increase the general pile of wealth of the country. The point then is, can we afford to do all this, and is it on balance necessary? Will it add to, or actually detract from, the wealth of the country?

Farmers, I suggest, should take an interest in these proposed new expenditures, for we may be certain of one thing; farmers will have to pay their full share of it all.

W. D. Albright—A Tribute

Throughout Western Canada, W. D. Albright is known as the author of "Timely Hints from the Beaveridge Station." In the Peace River Block, he is known as a pioneer, a good farmer, superintendent of the experimental station, a wonderful host and a wise counselor.

Few, if any men in the Dominion Experimental Farm Branch have worked as hard as has Mr. Albright, and none has reaped a greater reward. The Beaveridge Station has grown out of Mr. Albright's homestead and its influence is apparent throughout "The Peace." His interest in the discoveries of agricultural science has never flagged and he has devoted his life transforming these discoveries into more successful farm production and more attractive farm homes.

Few men become great, because greatness can only be born from the union of talent and hard work. Mr. Albright has not "buried his talent." Farmers and professional agriculturists alike owe him a great debt.

At a result of hard work—perhaps too hard—Mr. Albright is obliged to rest for a period of three months. He, and his many other admiring readers, will readily forego the pleasure of reading "Timely Hints" for a time, provided we can look forward to an early reappearance. We all gladly join in wishing him many more years of good health and of service to Canadian agriculture.

Joe Citizen Says:

Some think the war is nearly through some take a quite contrary view. Me, I prefer to wait and see, but with one viewpoint I agree, and that is we must carry on until the need for help is gone. Suppose the fighting all was done the peace would still have to be won and that, if I am seeing right, won't be a job done overnight. No, Sir, we want for many a day from war-time rules get clear away. War's cost has certainly been steep and lasting peace will not come cheap. So dreams of good times let us quit and to our country's needs submit. Let's lend our money anyhow—that's what we're asked to do right now, and, personally, I just plan to lay in every bond I can.

The sugar situation is NOT sweet

FOUR-FIFTHS OF THE SUGAR CANADA CONSUMES HAS TO BE IMPORTED

This map shows where Canada, Great Britain and the United States got their sugar in the good old days of peace. Our three countries take practically all the exportable sugar from these major sugar-exporting areas.

But supplies have either been cut off by enemy occupation of the country—as in the case of Java and the Philippines, or their production radically reduced by shortage of workers, as in the case of Hawaii, Porto Rico, Australia, Trinidad, Fiji.

ROLLING ON SUGAR

The war has brought some unusual demands on the United Nations' sugar pool. Vast quantities have been taken for making industrial alcohol used in the manufacture of synthetic rubber (tires, etc.) as well as T.N.T. and smokeless powder. For instance, the explosive to fill five 16-inch shells requires as much sugar as

Even the production of beet sugar in Canada and the United States has been drastically cut by labour shortage. In both countries the '43 sugar beet crop was forty per cent less than in '41. The only country to show an important increase is Cuba, where output had for years been deliberately restricted. But its increase has not been sufficient to offset the losses elsewhere—let alone meet the increased demand.

DO WE NEED MORE SUGAR?

A century ago the whole world didn't consume as much sugar as Canada does today. Our sweet tooth has been acquired in quite recent times. Sugar rates high for its energy value, but starchy food is a good substitute.

THE SUPPLY IS SHARED

All sugar supplies are pooled and under the control of the Combined Food Board of the United Nations, which allots supplies to Canada, United States and Great Britain on a uniform basis.

WE'RE LIVING ON OUR SUGAR CAPITAL

At the time of "Pearl Harbour" the United Nations had a reserve stock-pile of about 3 million tons, but for the last 3 years we've been using more than has been produced—and dipping heavily into "reserves." Liberated nations will have to dip in too. Extra good crops could improve the situation, but greatly increased supplies are not in sight. If current consumption keeps up, we could be very short of sugar next year. We must do the utmost to conserve our supplies.

RATIONING WAS STARTED BECAUSE OF SHORTAGE OF SHIPS. IT MUST BE CONTINUED BECAUSE WORLD STOCKS ARE DEFICIENT

Rugby Notes

The Rugby Comfort Club held the September meeting at the home of Mrs. A. Vipond. A hospital quilt was tied and several blocks were pieced. Suggestions for overseas parcels for our local boys were offered. Several volunteered to make fruit cakes. A special meeting was arranged for Tuesday, October 24, at the home of Mrs. Jas. Hoesgood.

After a bountiful lunch, several pictures were taken by the hostess to record the large group active in Red Cross work in this community.

Jutland Notes.

About thirty young people and friends attended a farewell party given in honor of LAC Raymond Hayne, by Jutland Sunday School Young People's Circle, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hayne.

The evening was spent in playing progressive crokinole; prizes going to Rev. A. Amacher and Mr. Lloyd McCaig, while consolations went to Mrs. Stiles and Mr. Stuart Hooper.

The Misses Lillian Tighe and Muriel Hayne assisted in serving a delicious lunch.

After a visit about the tea tables, Mr. Amacher concluded the evening with prayer and good wishes to the guest of honor, who is leaving for the east at the conclusion of his furlough.

The Canada Year Book 1943-44

The 1943-44 edition of the Canada Year Book, published by authorization of the Hon. James A. MacKinnon, M.P., Minister of Trade and Commerce, is announced by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

On grounds of wartime economy, the 1943 edition of the Year Book was not published and the present volume has therefore been planned to cover developments over a two-year period, perhaps more important from the standpoint of the changes in our internal economy than any other like period in the Dominion's history. The problem of including all necessary new material and at the same time keeping the volume down to convenient limits has not been an easy one to solve and, wherever possible, space has had to be saved by reference to earlier editions for standard material.

The Canada Year Book is the official statistical annual of the country and contains a thoroughly up-to-date account of the natural resources of the Dominion and their development, the history of the country, its institutions, its demography, the different branches of production, trade, transportation, finance, education, etc.—in brief, a comprehensive study within the limits of a single volume of the social and economic conditions of the Dominion.

By a special concession, a limited number of paper-bound copies have been set aside for ministers of religion, bona fide students and school teachers, who may obtain a set of copies at the nominal price of $1.00 each. Application with remittance for these special copies must be forwarded to the Dominion Statistician, Dominion Bureau of Statistics, Ottawa.

The Canada Year Book (cloth-bound edition) is held for sale by the King's Printer, Ottawa, at $2.00 a copy.

Getting Out a Column Is No Picnic

The predicament of a newspaper columnist:

If we print jokes, people say we are silly; if we don't we're too serious.

If we clip from other papers we're lazy; if not we're conceited.

If we stick close to the job, we should be out hunting news.

If we go out and try to hustle some items, we should be at work.

If we don't print contributions we don't appreciate their genius.

If we do print them, the paper is filled with junk.

If we make changes in other fellows' write-ups, we're too critical.

If we don't, we're asleep at the switch and poor newspapermen.

Now, like as not, some soldier will even say we sniped this from some magazine. We did!

Hold The Line

The immediate post-war period will be beset with many agricultural problems. The principal one will be the possibility of a collapse of the prices of farm products such as occurred after World War 1.

Canadian farm production has increased substantially during the war years in direct response to the pleas of the Canadian and Allied governments. There have been abundant markets for farm products during the war. There is a danger, however, that these markets will contract in peacetime with the result that surpluses will accumulate in Canada.

Canadian farmers should be strong in their determination to insist that there shall be no collapse of farm prices in the post-war period similar to what occurred after the first world war.

The best way of achieving this is to strengthen farm co-operatives and farmer associations.

Wherever possible, deliver your grain to

Coal Shortage

Much Greater In Australia And New Zealand Than In Canada

The shortage of coal is so much greater in Australia and New Zealand than it is in Canada and the United States that a further reduction in civilian railroad transport has become necessary. It has been disclosed.

The coal consumption of all railroad systems in Australia is to be reduced by 7,000 tons weekly, or 10 per cent.

Since war started, traffic on Australian railroads has increased by 50 per cent, due to the transport of troops, munitions, food and other war goods.

To cope with the wartime traffic, civilian transport was reduced between 50 and 80 per cent. Since June, 1942, a permit system for interstate and country traffic has been in operation and since that time the interstate transport of unessential goods has been prohibited.

In New Zealand a travel permit system also has been in effect, but government officials hope it will not be necessary to continue it after September.

The officials said present railway coal stocks in the north island of New Zealand were sufficient for only nine days running under curtailed service, and in the south island for 10 days running.

Money From Stamps

Used Stamps Are Saved, Sorted And Sold

Used stamps by the ton are saved, sorted and sold by the child patients of the Queen Elizabeth Hospital for Children, Hackney Road, London, England.

To give a helping hand to the young philatelists, the Women's Voluntary Services Centre in Halifax, Nova Scotia, has been calling for good used stamps from all countries and of any denomination.

Officials of the Halifax Centre say that according to information received by them, in one year alone the Hospital's Philatelist Club Fund sold more than 12 tons of used stamps, proceeds from which brought more than $5,000 to the hospital.

The Halifax Centre makes only one rule in connection with its stamp efforts. And that is that stamps which have been peeled off envelopes are in most cases useless. They say that stamps should be sent in still attached to the original envelope, or the corner of the envelope, with stamp torn off.

New Appointment

H. Lieut.-Col. Ronald Cameron MacGillivray, M.C., E.D., has been appointed Principal Chaplain (Roman Catholic) for the Canadian Army succeeding H. Brigadier the Right Reverend C. L. Nelligan, E.D., Bishop of Pembroke, who is retiring due to ill health. Col. MacGillivray was born in Antigonish County, N.S., and was educated at St. Francis Xavier College and the Urban University in Rome. He was awarded the Military Cross during the last war for "personal bravery" in the Battle of Amiens. He has served overseas in this war for two and one-half years and returned to Canada to take the appointment of Assistant Principal Chaplain under Bishop Nelligan.

REMINDER TO MOTORISTS

A reminder to motorists: the life of a tire when the car is driven at 35 miles an hour is 50 per cent longer than if the speed were 50 miles an hour; three times longer than if the car were driven at 60 miles an hour.

Synthetic Rubber

New Process To Step Up Production Of Tires

A new method of processing synthetic rubber in the U.S. was disclosed by the General Tire and Rubber Company which said the development will step up production of military tires and "hasten the day" when civilians can replace their passenger car tires.

The development consists of a process of adding carbon black—which provides the wearing surface of a tire—to the rubber while the rubber still is in the liquid stage.

Hilberts in the processing of both natural and synthetic rubber, the company said, it has been necessary to grind the carbon black into dried rubber in a lengthy milling process.

Company officials said the new technique had these advantages:

1. A 35 per cent. reduction in milling time.
2. An equal percentage cut in manpower on milling operations.
3. A 20 per cent. reduction in power consumption.
4. Lower production costs.

New Flying Suits

Designed By U.S. Navy Doctors Contain Built-In Tourniquets

A flying suit containing "built-in" tourniquets has been designed by two U.S. navy doctors as a possible aid in the control of bleeding among wounded pilots during combat.

"Combat pilots often return to their carriers or land bases with wounds that are bleeding freely," declared Lt.-Cmdr. Russell G. Witwer and Lieut. William F. Leach in the naval medical bulletin.

"Many of them do not have the strength, means or time to control hemorrhage while flying the planes." To meet such emergencies, the doctors said they had designed a flying suit bearing four adjustable tourniquets, one in each arm and leg. Any flying suit, they said, could easily be converted into the type described.

Smart Chimpanzees

Those In London Zoo Know When Bombs Are Coming

Of all the animals in the London Zoo only the chimpanzees are flying-bomb conscious. They are called the "Achtung Chimps", reports the London Daily Mail. Lions, tigers, and nervous creatures like Henry, the llama in the children's zoo, are not aware of the peril in the sound of the flying bomb's engine. The "Achtung Chimps", however, hear the bombs when they are miles off, and they instantly distinguish between them and the engines of the fleets of Allied bombers which roar overhead.

Better Farm Homes

Have Been Neglected In The Matter Of Modern Equipment

The farm home has much too long been neglected in the matter of modern equipment.

It is the greatest mass market in Canada for manufactured goods if we can provide the basic units at a price which farmers can afford to pay.

We must get away from the pioneer, almost peasant-like, conditions which prevail today in about 75 per cent. of Canada's farm homes where more than 25 per cent. of our population live and have their being.

Wedding.

HOWTON—MOORE

Rev. C. B. Moore officiated at a ceremony performed in the United Church, Ogden, Sunday, September 24, when Rose, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Moore, became the bride of Mr. John Howton, son of Mr. Harry Howton and the late Mrs. Howton of Elkton.

Wearing a floor-length gown of cream ivory satin with train-length heirloom veil, held in a coronet of orange blossoms, the bride entered the church on the arm of her uncle, Mr. A. Moore, who gave her in marriage. Her only ornament was a locket given to her by her brother, Robert, who is serving overseas. She carried a beautiful bouquet of American Beauty roses and gardenia.

Mrs. Robert Moore, maid-of-honor, was dressed in floor-length pink sheer.

The bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Moore and Miss Olive Cooper, dressed in Alice blue and sky blue sheer, wore shoulder length veil caught with a pink rose, and carried bouquets of asters.

Miss Jacqueline McGaffin, acting as flower girl, made a sedate picture of daintiness in pale green taffeta.

Little Doreen McRae was a train-bearer for the bride, and was dressed in yellow sheer.

The groom was attended by Mr. Harry McGaffin.

Messrs. Glenn Cooper and Bobbie Moore acted as ushers.

The bride's mother was becomingly gowned in oriental blue crepe.

Mrs. W. Kirkwood and Mr. R. L. McGaffin played "Always" and the wedding march. "I Love You Truly" was sung.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. and Mrs. Cecil Moore.

Following the reception the happy couple left for a honeymoon trip at Banff. The bride's going-away suit was blue with a red coat and hat.

Upon return, the couple will make their home at Elkton.

Since God called you away"
"There is a haven and a rest
For all the dearest and most best:
There is one thing life can give,
In which all seeds of goodness live.
The one thing that is set above
All else in life—
Our Mother's love!"

Ever remembered by her children,
